Illustrator and Art Teacher

She creates tiny worlds that capture the magic and joy of childhood for my clients. These worlds are hand-painted and cut from paper, and allow the viewer to feel as if they are part of that moment in time. Her illustrations have been used in magazines, newspapers, package designs, and children's books. She resides in Savannah, Georgia with her family.

She is represented by Kaitlyn Sanchez of Bradford Literary Agency.

This video shows a behind-the-scenes setup of my illustration work. I make illustrations from paper, wood, fabric, yarn, and wire.

Building my illustrations by hand gives me great joy and satisfaction. I love to share the process, so students understand that creating art for books is thoughtfully planned.

Testimonial

We enjoyed Nancy SO Miller's visit to our school. It was so nice to have an illustrator visit our school in person. Nancy Miller's illustrations are beautiful and detailed. She amazed the students with her work including a 3D model of her kitchen illustration. Her entertaining presentation included original art for the kids to see and described the process she uses as an illustrator. She shared about her art and writing journey which included showing students her book dummy. She encouraged the students to be artists by showing them step by step how to draw the dog character. The students enjoyed being able to create something of their own to take home.
